DETAILED ACTION

1. The examiner requests that applicant examine the claims to ensure that they are intended as written; specifically, claim 13 is written as a product claims, but is referred to in the dependent claims 14-16 as a method. For the purpose of this action, claim 13 has been placed into group II (nucleic acids). Upon any amendment, further restriction may be required.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, 14-16, and 33, drawn to methods for assessing colorectal cancer, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - II. Claims 13 and 17-32, drawn to nucleic acids and kits containing the same, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

Requirement for further restriction

For either group elected above, applicant shall further select a single portfolio of nucleic acid sequences from the group consisting of SEQ ID NOs 6-28. Only claims that recite the selected SEQ ID NOs will be examined, and they will only be examined in so far as they include the selected SEQ ID NOs. Applicant is advised that examination will be restricted to only the elected SEQ ID NOs, and this should not be construed as a species election.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the nucleic acids of invention II can be used for a process other than assessing disease; for instance the nucleic acids could be used as capture probes to affinity purify native nucleic acids, or to amplify a nucleic acid for an expression vector.

3. In the case of the requirement for further restriction (selection of a single portfolio of SEQ ID NOs), the various portfolios of nucleic acids represent patentably distinct combinations composed of structurally distinct nucleic acids. Each sequence is patentably distinct because they are unrelated sequences (i.e. they do not share a common structure), therefore each combination is patentably distinct. A reference against one would not anticipate or obviate another, and thus for each particular sequence a separate search of the patent and non-patent literature is required. These separate searches would impose undue burden on the examiner.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as demonstrated by their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter and because inventions  require different searches that are not coextensive, examination of these claims would pose a serious burden on the examiner and therefore restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

6. A telephone call was made to Todd Volyn on 12-09-2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stephen Kapushoc whose telephone number is 571-272-3312. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday, from 8am until 5pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gary Jones can be reached at 571-272-0745. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
